I believe the Agency's answer should not be so specific as to publicize the exact number of RIPS performed last year or the exact number of examiners we had at a specific period of time or will have in the future. I certainly don't believe that we want to announce that we did in Fiscal Year 1984.

The 10,000 total case figure that we do release will not specify the amount of applicants, RIPS, etc., etc.

FYI - We completed the SECOM form requesting exact numbers but I recommend against sending it.

The figures, as provided in reference may require an endorsement but I believe that they should be provided. Since we were not asked for a report, I think we need consider reporting them. If they had been asked for I probably would have passed over their release.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Policy Branch, PPG/OS

ATTENTION:

FROM:

Chief, Polygraph Division

SUBJECT: SECOM Request for Information on the CIA
Polygraph ProgramREFERENCE: Memo for SECOM Members fm C/SECOM, dtd 29 Jan 86, Subj: Polygraph (SECOM-D-026)

1. The Polygraph Division proposes that the following information be provided to the Security Committee in answer to their referenced inquiry.

2. Employees entering on duty with the CIA are apprised that they will be requested to take a polygraph examination, covering both counterintelligence and lifestyle issues; three years after the date of employment, a Trial Period Polygraph (TRIP). Subsequent to their TRIP examination, they are subject to a five-year periodical security reinvestigation which includes a polygraph examination on counterintelligence issues, Reinvestigation Polygraph (RIP). All employees can be requested to take a Specific Issue Polygraph (SIP) at any time if they become subject to a security or counterintelligence inquiry.

3. The CIA conducted approximately 10,000 polygraph examinations during Fiscal Year 1985. Within this total were applicant screening tests (including detailees and consultants with staff-like accesses), the TRIP and RIP Polygraphs, the Industrial Program, Operational Polygraphs, and Specific Issue Polygraphs.

4. In March 1985, the Office of Security was directed to an expansion program that would treble its number of line polygraph examiners by January 1987. The recruitment program has been generally successful. Time goals are being met and the Agency's American Polygraph Association accredited polygraph school has been expanded to satisfy all polygraph training requirements.
